Graduate Teacher Education Program

FISCHLER GRADUATE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN SERVICES

Nova Southeastern University

Nova Southeastern University is an independent, accredited, coeducational institution founded in 1964 as Nova University. The university is internationally known for innovation and quality in both traditional and distance education. Currently, NSU has approximately 63,000 alumni and 18,000 students enrolled in programs in 23 states and 12 countries, and the university continues to grow.

Fischler Graduate School of Education and Human Services

FGSEHS is one of the largest graduate schools of education in the United States, with 8,000 students in more than 50 cities and 22 states. FGSEHS uses a variety of methods to deliver high-quality education in a manner that adapts to students' work schedules and locations, and meets individualized needs and objectives. FGSEHS provides a number of postgraduate education study programs through its Graduate Teacher Education Program (GTEP), including teacher education, educational leadership, higher education administration, child and youth studies, communication disorders, distance education and technology, addiction studies, and many others. In addition, FGSEHS offers a number of nondegree initiatives and avenues of study.

GTEP is Here to Help You

GTEP will help you design your own path that leads to personal and professional achievement with courses that you select, based on your location, your schedule, and your learning preferences.

As a GTEP educational media student, you can follow your path to enrichment by using computers and technology to

-  learn about current media practices
-  help students and colleagues use print, nonprint, and electronic resources to enhance learning and educational outcomes
-  learn how to organize information
-  focus on the areas of information literacy and information management
-  enhance current media center services
-  improve classroom presentation and media production techniques
-  locate online utilities and resources to provide information to students and faculty members
-  add educational media certification to your certificate

Design Your Own Learning Path

You can choose from GTEP's four learning modalities to design your course path:

Enhanced Directed Studies

You and the instructor meet through Web-based chats, by email, or by phone, when it is convenient for you.

Live, Site-Based Classes

Experience the familiar medium of face-to-face instruction.

Online Courses

Enjoy learning in a technologically rich environment, using a Web-supported utility, such as WebCT.

Small-Group Instruction

Combine live, face-to-face meetings and distance learning modalities.

Notice of Nondiscrimination

Nova Southeastern University admits students of any race, color, sex, age, nondisqualifying disability, religion or creed, or national or ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school, and does not discriminate in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.

Nova Southeastern University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097; Telephone number 404-679-4501) to award bachelor's, master's, educational specialist, and doctoral degrees.
